

“What a Satisfaction to See Your Figure Improved Each Day

A GOSSARD graduate corsetiere said this to a new customer last summer, and we have instructed corsetieres everywhere to say the same thing to every woman who looks at a Gossard.

Gossards lace in front—we originated the idea 14 years ago. You lace your corset in a minute each time you put it on. In this minute each day you can gently reduce or mold your figure as you want it. In no other corset is this possible.

If you are short waisted or have a poor back line, you may have a longer waist line and a graceful back line. All you need is the one Gossard designed for your figure type.

Ideal Short Waisted and Curved Back Figures

If your back line does not please you, a special straight line model may be selected that will, in a very short time, give you a beautiful, normal back line. Daily, short waists are made longer and curved back lines straighter by special Gossards designed for these figures.

Priced at $2.50, $3.50, $5.00 and up.

Mrs. Henry L. E. Smith Killed in Auto Accident at Pasadena.

Mrs. Henry L. E. Smith, practically a life-long resident of Montpelier, was killed in an automobile accident at Pasadena, Cal., Saturday, a telegram conveying the news being received in the city yesterday forenoon by Mrs. Marshall L. Wood of Main street. The telegram failed to tell any of the details but stated that her husband, cashier of the Hotel Raymond at Pasadena, will start with the remains for Montpelier Tuesday afternoon.

It is not known whether Mrs. Smith was killed while riding in a machine or met her death by being struck by the vehicle and the fatality might have happened at Los Angeles or Pasadena. Mr. Smith has been cashier at the Hotel Raymond during the winter season for many years, having a similar position in a hotel at the White mountains during the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for California Dec. 21.

Mrs. Smith was born in Granby, P. Q. 50 years ago last October, her maiden name being Margaret Harris. She was married in Montpelier and resided here the remainder of her life with the exception of the periods spent in the White mountains and California and was a well known and highly respected woman in the community.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Charlotte M. Smith of 23 St. Paul street, three brothers, Michael of Portland, Ore., and William and John of West Sheffield, P. Q., and the following sisters: Mrs. Emma McGuirk of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Michael Devaney of Roseburg, Ore., Mrs. John Brown of Plainfield, N. J., Mrs. Annie Bush of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson of Woonsocket, R. I.

The body, accompanied by Mr. Smith, is expected to arrive in Montpelier Saturday night or Sunday morning.

The annual meeting of the Vermont State Spiritualist association was concluded with last night's session in Grand Army hall with an address by Rev. George A. Fuller of Greenwich, Mass., with messages by William Whitney of Springfield, Mass., they having been the principal speakers during the three days' session. The following officers were elected: President, C. M. Ingalls, Montpelier; vice-president, I. W. Hatch, Burlington; tyson, A. F. Hubbard; secretary, Mrs. J. L. Smith, St. Albans; treasurer, Mrs. Ellen Ward of Barre; board of business managers, J. L. Smith of St. Albans, E. J. Fallon of Montpelier, Miss Gertrude Pierson of Montpelier, Mrs. Lettie Griffith of Barre and Frank Earle of Cutterville; auditors, I. W. Hatch of Burlington, and Mrs. Hutchins of East Barre.

A bowling match between Paul Poehler of Boston, candle-pin champion, and Harold W. Nute of Manchester, N. H., recently defeated by Poehler in a twenty-string game, will take place at the Imperial alleys around the middle of next month if present arrangements are not changed. It is expected that Poehler and Nute as a team, will roll a ten-string game with two local bowlers.

Montpelier high school basketball team returned Sunday morning from Stowe, where they were defeated 41 to 23 Saturday night. The local team said the small hall proved too much of a handicap but that Stowe would have a hard time to win when the return game is played here next week. The only local game this week occurs on Friday evening when Burlington will be the attraction.

Barre and the Press Meeting.

A good number of the members of the Vermont Press association met in Barre last Friday for their annual meeting and banquet. It was pronounced a most profitable as well as pleasant meeting, one of the best, and this was in no small part due to the efforts of the management of the Hotel Barre to make it so. Barre is proud of its new hotel and has every reason to be. It is in the front rank of Vermont hotels. Its appointments and furnishings are attractive and in exceptionally good taste, and its service is such as to appeal to the traveler who is looking for comfortable, restful hotel accommodations. This hotel, we understand, is the result of efforts put forth by the public spirited citizens of Barre, and shows what can be done when the men of a live community get together for a good pull and a pull all together.—Lyndonville Union-Journal.

Frank Munichi of Keene, N. H., arrived in the city yesterday and will spend several days as the guest of friends on Brook street.

Miss Catherine Rowley of Highland avenue, who has been confined to the house on account of illness during the past two weeks, resumed her duties at the Bailey Music rooms on Elm street to-day.

Mrs. S. Sloan of Merchant street finished moving her household goods to-day and will leave this evening for St. Albans, where she will join her husband, who has been employed there during the past few weeks.

Yesterday was observed as young people's day at the Universalist church and the text of the morning sermon as well as the topics assigned for Sunday school and after-meetings were of special interest to the younger attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Denning, who have been traveling with the Jere McAville company in Vermont, New Hampshire, New York and Canada, arrived in the city Saturday evening from Lebanon, N. H., and are making an extended stay in the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Denning of Park street.

The bazaar or fair in Howland hall Feb. 1, 2 and 3 promises to be well patronized. The best local talent will constitute a program to be given before dancing each evening. Carroll's orchestra will furnish music each evening. The admission is only 10 cents. A season ticket for three nights can be had for 25 cents.—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cutler returned to their home on Jefferson street Saturday evening after a stay of a week in Boston and vicinity. Mr. Cutler attended the banquet which was given to the dealers of the Smith Form-a-Truck Co. by the members of the firm. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler were accompanied home by Mrs. Russell Brown, who will visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. Clara Page of Jefferson street, for several days before returning to her home in South Easton, Mass.

At the Salvation Army barracks Saturday evening the officers were in charge of a unique function, that of supplementing their regular daily ration of gospel with a free lunch that was liberally patronized. A number of persons who confessed themselves to be total strangers in the barracks room joined heartily in the 8 o'clock service and were there when the captain and his assistants began to assign the free lunches. A kettle that heretofore has been used only around the holidays was stationed near the Howland building in the afternoon and many coppers, nickels and dimes found their way into the bowl figured in the free "eat" at the army headquarters in the evening.

At the City hospital to-day it was reported that Emory B. Fellows, who was removed to the institution Saturday after having been detained for a few hours at police headquarters, appeared to be recovering slowly. Although Fellows was caught red-handed in breaking into a bar-room on Granite street, the authorities are reluctant to set him down as a criminal of the General Court type and Dr. J. A. Wark, who is attending the patient, is of the opinion that he has been under considerable of a mental strain. Fellows has told the police that he committed both booze burglaries, but claims that he was mentally irresponsible. Unless it is decided to dispose of the case in some other manner, Fellows will be arraigned in court within a few days.

Under the supervision of the state experiment station in Burlington, a test was recently applied to a five-year-old Holstein cow owned by A. T. Smith & Son of East Hill. "Pietertje Maide de Kol" is the name of the milker that reports to have outstripped any record made in the Barre Town herds in some time. Without any preparation for the test, the cow, which freshened Dec. 25, was turned over to Gordon Bull, the official tester. The results exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the cow's owners. In seven days the cow yielded milk enough for 24.23 pounds of butter and in the same period it had a daily average of 82.6 pounds of milk. The largest yield of milk in any one day was 87.7 pounds.

The members of the Spaulding teacher training class are getting some practical experience in teaching this week because of the enforced absence of seven regular teachers who happened to be rooming in a house on Jefferson street where a child came down with scarlet fever late last week and who, although not thought to have been exposed to the disease, were advised not to go to their schools during the usual period of development of the disease. So, in the meantime, the teacher training class was called on to conduct the schools. When the pupils in the room in the Mathewson school where the young child appeared this forenoon they were told by Supt. White that there would be no session in that room this week. Fumigation has been carried out in the school, as well as at the house where the girl lived, and the patient has been removed to a house entirely given up to that case. Health Officer Dr. J. W. Stewart is authority for the statement that there are only five cases of the disease in the city, only four of which were in the schools, as the fifth case was that of a child which has just come from Concord, N. H.

And now comes "Ye Old-Fashioned Country Fair" to be given in the Howland hall Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 1, 2 and 3. Our committee says that a good program each evening by local talent will precede the dancing and that Carroll's orchestra will be there with the best of music. The concert will begin at 8 and dancing at 9. Single admission, 10 cents; season ticket, 25 cents. This is for the benefit of the Cecilia club and we hope you may attend.—adv.

Francis Gouldsbury, formerly of Barre, who has been employed in the Montpelier yard of the Montpelier & Wells River railroad for some time, has been transferred to the Barre yard, and began his duties here this morning. J. C. Chamberlain has so far recovered from his illness as to be able to assume his duties as conductor and Engineer A. P. Burnham of Perry street, who has been detained by an attack of the grip, was able to take his place at the throttle in the Barre & Chelmsford railroad yard to-day.

Miss Ellen Putnam, who has been passing a month in the city as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clinton F. Miller of Cliff street, returned this forenoon to her home in New York.

Owing to the serious illness of the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. B. G. Lipsey of French street, morning services at the Hedding Methodist church yesterday were omitted. The child's condition was reported to remain unchanged to-day.

Before the members of the teacher training class at Spaulding high school this forenoon, County Agent F. H. Abbott concluded his series of talks on soil and successive Mondays for the past three weeks Mr. Abbott has been giving the teachers in training some interesting elementary lessons in agriculture.

Reports from the bedside of Charles B. Tilden, who is seriously ill at his home on upper Prospect street, indicated to-day that his condition is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Charles Miner has returned to the city from Jeffersonville, where she was called by the illness and death of her father, Charles Jacques, a well known blacksmith of that town. Mr. Jacques in recent years had been a frequent visitor in Barre and had a growing circle of friends in this vicinity.

A number of people were entertained in Worthen hall Friday evening when Rev. C. C. Edgall gave an illustrated lecture on "Picturesque Sweden." Stereopticon slides used by the lecturer were especially clear and those who listened to his remarks went away with a vivid impression of the scenic beauties of the country.

A blooded bull with a pedigree that isn't often reprinted because of the high cost of paper has been purchased by A. T. Smith & Son and L. F. Sanborn of Trow hill from Thomas Dyer of Wingville, N. Y., a well known breeder of high grade Holstein cattle. The bull will be added to a fine herd of Holstein cattle which the purchasers are maintaining on the hill.

Sunday morning services at the First Presbyterian church were in charge of Rev. Stanley F. Blomfield, pastor of Bethany church in Montpelier, who took the text for an interesting sermon from the gospel of St. Mark. The local pastor, Rev. Edgar Crossland, was the preacher at the morning-service in Bethany church and afterwards spoke to the men's forum on his bicycle travels through Africa.
